If you are thinking of taking a trip, write and tell us where you are going and when you will leave, and we will tell you how much your ticket will cost, what time it will take to make the best time and connections, and any other information that will help make your trip as comfortable and as interesting as possible. Why I Breed Houdans.

At first, many years ago, it was by accident, I asked a friend about a trio of blooded stock, and he sold me the only Houdan trio he had. It was the most lucky trio I ever heard of, saw or experienced. Now it is from choice; I cannot afford others. Though I am a lover of all breeds in the Standard and a few not contained therein, and can see good points in all breeds, I breed the Houdans on their merits, to the exclusion of all others. Why? Because I believe the exclusive breeder is the most successful as a general rule, though there are a few exceptional cases. The risks are not so great, the amount involved less, and in the majority of cases the stock nearer perfection. With the exclusive breeder the child or the hired man does not leave the Leghorn gate open into the Houdan park while you are away seeking aid for a sick and dear mother, thus spoiling your flock temporarily and your reputation indefinitely, etc. It is easier even for the well-to-do fancier to invest $50 for the improvement of the Houdan breed, than for one to invest $50 each for several breeds. The outcome is in most cases that the $50 is divided up into two, or more breeds by the many-varied poultryman. I have in the meantime, since the first trio came on the place, tried other good varieties, and come to the conclusion that no town lot or big farm is large enough for two breeds. In selecting the breed to exclusively place my energies, study, hard work and upbuilding, I turned to my first love, which always predominated as my choice and as money makers (as most all fanciers do who breed Houdans).

Why? They are bright, intelligent, happy companions, good layers, correct size, when up to Standard, easily petted, stand confinement well when necessary, splendid rangers and foragers, extra fine broilers, if not the best, as good for the pot or oven, never get tough if ten years old, small eaters, place the meat in front, hard to get to Standard requirements, but when once attained easily kept in their good points, lay large, fine, white eggs and plenty of them, hardly ever sit (only when too fat) but when they do they make fine mothers, and last but not least their fine plumage, big crests and beards, small tail, block like body, making a handsome appearance in the yard or on the farm. Their color being black and white indicates they possess the good qualities of youth and age, the black predominating. To be concise and to the point, I am an exclusive breeder because I am, after mature judgment, covering many years, in love with the happy Houdan, formerly from Houdan, France, but now strictly American, patriotic and up-to-date.

They are money makers and bound to receive a substantial boom covering a long term of years. There are no better crosses than the male Houdan to improve the farmers' general flock in meat and egg production. I have more confidence in placing an order with an exclusive breeder than with the one who breeds several varieties.—Frank W. McKenzie in American Houdan Club Catalogue.

DRAWN TO DEATH.

Farm Hand Horribly Mangled by a Mule Near Scottsville.

Scottsville, Ky., June 5.—James Watson, an industrious farm hand, employed by Robert McDaniel, near town, suffered a fatal accident early this morning, while riding a plow mule to the field. The animal became frightened and hurled Watson from its back, lodging him in the chains of the harness and dragging him for quite a distance over gullies and rocks. Watson's body was a perfect jelly and he died two hours later.

When winter comes the vital forces of nature are low, and the tree stands like a solitary monument to the dead summer. In the winter of life, active men experience a similar lowering of vitality. In some the effect is startling. They lose their grip on life. They seem like monuments of a buried past. At this crisis there is need of a medicine which will nourish and build up the body, and increase its vital power. Such a medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches the blood, purifies it, carries off the clogging waste of the system, increases the nutrition of the body, and produces a sound, healthy condition with abundant vital power and physical energy.

David Duggins, Esq., of Jones, Ohio Co., Ky., writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I had nervous or general debility of three years' duration. I took three bottles of the 'Discovery.' During the time I was taking it my sleep became more refreshing and I gained fifteen pounds weight, and also gained strength every day. It has been six months since I took the medicine and I still have reasonable health. I am willing to have you publish this, and also my former letter, if you wish to, and if it proves to be of benefit to any afflicted person I will feel well repaid."

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant in "Golden Medical Discovery," neither opium or other narcotic drugs.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is seeking to profit himself, not to help you. Insist on having "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free, on receipt of stamps to cover cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for edition in paper cover, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
